

Smashie

Yesterday was quite a pantomime at Hereford Magistrates Court. I sat in on half a dozen of the 'hearings'. Unsurprisingly they were largely similar. The magistrates were clueless - useful idiots - driven by ego and prestige. The clerk of the court was a psychopath. All very contrived - a real kangaroo court. Everyone ended up with a notice of a liability order - which is apparently just nonsense. The clowns didn't know if they were a court of record or not, which is pretty fundamental. It got quite rowdy when this was exposed - and all the magistrates abandoned their posts.

I'd encourage you all to visit the Hereford Common Law group or google it. They are working for all the neighbouring counties and are only going to grow. If you are fed up with paying council tax and getting nothing for it, and funding wars by the back door, then it is worth a trip up.

So they will be appealing the so called judgements and hoping to take it to a higher court.

Apparently this is happening around the country now. The magistrates in Stroud were going to go along with the argument that council tax is funding war and should be withheld - until their court clerk told them this would set a precedent - so they meekly issued liability orders.

It's just a matter of time, and if enough people stop complying the system breaks.
