

Dear Friend,

I am frequently asked about Advance UK policies. These are being worked on by our College at the moment and will be ready in due course. However, so that people are clear on the direction of travel Advance would take, here are a few snippets:

Repeal very nearly all laws put on our statute books since Blair was PM, including but not limited to the Human Rights Act; the Equality Act; the Climate Change Act. Remove the ECHR (from all of the UK) and Exit the UNHCR. Ditch DEI, Net Zero and the Windsor Framework.

Having returned power to Parliament, enforce our borders: dinghies would be stopped in the Channel. All illegal migrants in the UK and those that overstay visas would be detained and deported to the maximum extent possible. Any of their home countries refusing to cooperate would be sanctioned.

End Indefinite Leave to Remain and cease granting British citizenship. Anyone granted ILR under this Labour government will have it revoked, reversing the Boris wave.

End benefits for all foreigners. Slash taxes on the working and middle classes. Make it pay to work. Slash benefits for people who can but do not work.

Establish tax policies which favour families and responsibly having children - Bonk for Britain: a tax allowance for marriage, a tax allowance for each child and a tax allowance if a spouse stays at home to care for children. Cancel child benefits, which would be replaced by the above.

Remove the state from our families. Cease the indoctrination of our children at school. Return our freedoms and freedom of speech.

Cancel Digital ID. Stop the policing of tweets and have zero tolerance to real crime - there is no such thing as petty crime.

That is just for starters!
